Apache Band Candi

From Campus to Washington, D. C.

Washington D.C. was the Apache Belles and Apache Band's major trip this year. After a "color" show at the Dallas Cowboys-Washington Redskins football game, the Belles and Band toured the White House and the Capitol. At a joint session of Congress Congressman Ray Roberts of Texas described the 125 members of the Apache Belles and Band as "ambassadors of good will."

In the Congressional Record of Tuesday, Nov. 19, 1974, Roberts says the Belles "give their audiences plenty of variety in both costumes and dance routines, but their famous trademarks are still precision high kick and traditional gold and white costumes with cowboy hats and boots.

"The Apache Belles perform with beauty, charm, poise and a smile as big as all outdoors, and they do it to the sound of the talented and hard-working musicians in the Apache Band.

"I salute this fine group of young men and women and wish them every success as they continue a great tradition."

Andrews' No. 1 Apache

Football season began with two non-conference losses but saw the Apaches rise to defeat all seven conference opponents.

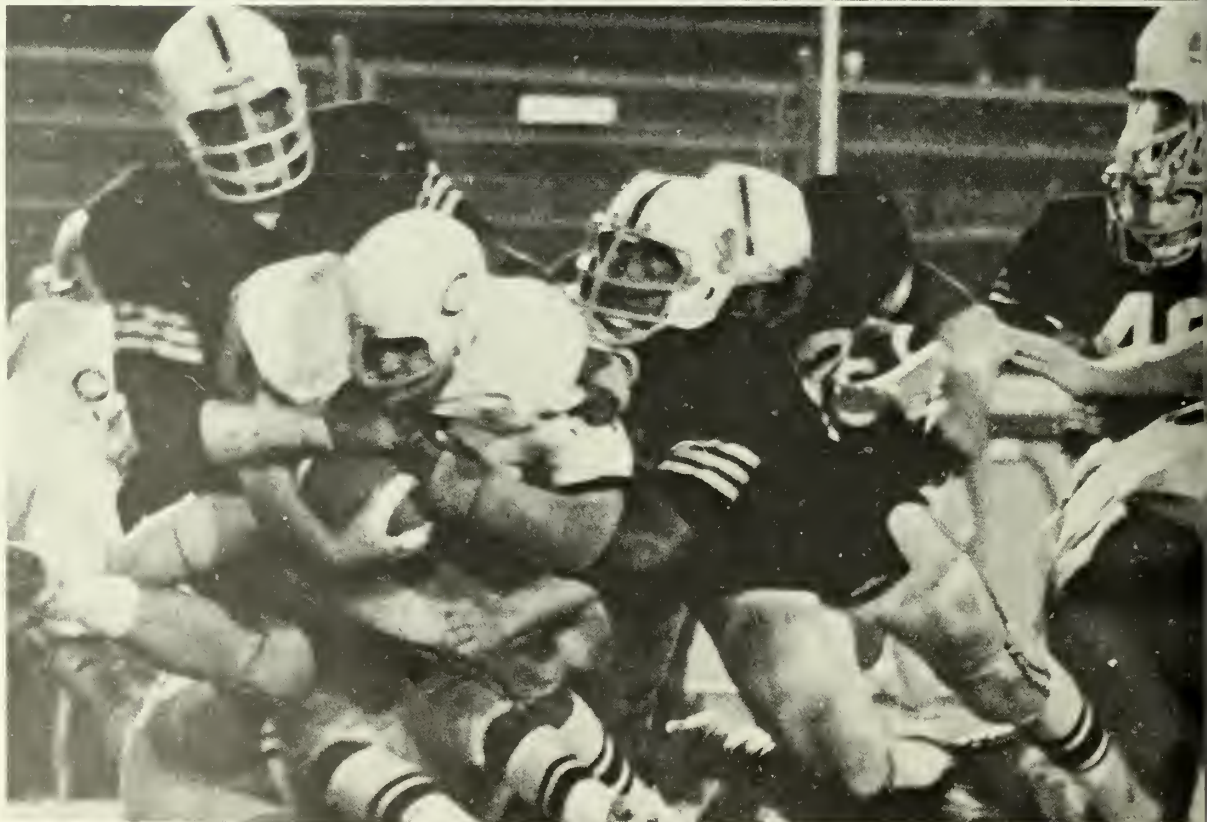

Wins came over Blinn, Cisco, Ranger, Navarro, Wharton, Henderson and Kilgore.

The team avenged their two non-conference losses to Henderson and Kilgore when they ended the season with wins over those two arch rivals.

Bright spots for the season were the selection of Charlie Johnson as TJCFE offensive player of the year and the 1,060 yard rushing record for freshman Bobby Mitchell.

Top, lineman Ernest Lee awaits referees decision on place kicker Steve Wilhite's field goal in the 17-0 win over Blinn.

Bottom, Apache defensive players Ernest Lee, Andrew English, Ernest Shields, Bobby Bottles and Bruce Patton stack up Cisco runner in 41-0 rout.

n Action

Top, members of the defense Bruce Patton, William Miller, Joseph Harvey, Charlie Johnson, Brad Timberlake, Keith Ligon known as the "wild bunch" are sticking together on the sideline.

Bottom, Defensive linemen Bruce Patton, Andrew English, Keith Ligon, Ernest Lee and Earl Wilson play big role in victory against Blinn.

Keeps Up Winning Ways

Under the leadership of Coach Randall Milstead, the high scoring '74-'75 Apache roundballers kept up TJC's winning ways. The Apaches jumped out to an early 6-1 conference record and 16-5 record at mid-season.

Leading the Apaches were high-scoring forward Charles McMillian, center Vernon Freeman and guard George Walker. At the other end of the court, guard Ricky Dowdle and forward George Campbell led in defensive specialties.

Another strong asset of the club was the team's excellent bench strength. Coach Milstead could substitute freely without worrying about losing an edge in talent and competition. Forward Robert Mackey, center Ray Quinney and guard Bruce Morgan led the second teamers on the court.

Coach Milstead says his coaching philosophy closely parallels that of Former Head Coach Floyd Wagstaff, now Dean of Athletics and Physical Education. This philosophy is "run and shoot. It's been working for years," Milstead says.
